Description:

Shattered is an escape room style game, filled with mind-boggling puzzles and an interesting story, waiting to be discovered.

You play as 19-year-old, Joseph Kenner, as he wakes up in his house with no recollection of past events, until he receives an email from his best friend, Carl.

Explore the house, study clues, solve puzzles and unfold the story of their friendship.

History:

Shattered is a project that took about 2 weeks. It originally started out as a detective game, but a lot of complications led to a complete revamp of the plot and the genre of the game. With a tight deadline we gave ourselves, we pushed to make a decent game that would have players still solve puzzles, including a story that's quite interesting to uncover.
